Ms Angela Lamprianidou has taught a full semester course on the topic of „body – space – composition“ in our bachelor program on theatre and media studies in summer term 2011. She has worked with undergraduate students and also supervised their exam in the course on theatre and media practise. Covering different aspects of contemporary dance practise and theory, her course was a great success and was very much appreciated by our students.

Angela has a great talent to fascinate and motivate students diving into the experience of contemporary dance. It was a pleasure to see how our students, who as theatre students generally don't have a profound knowledge of dancing techniques, were swiftly captured by Angela's genius as a teacher and as an artist of great inspiration.

We hope to see Angela Lamprianidou soon again as a teacher in our bachelor or master program.
